...to ENGAGE

Leading clinicians, scholars, artists and scientists will provide updates and next steps resulting from the RSC's organizational response to COVID-19 on topics such as homelessness, vaccine development, long-term care, mental health, Indigenous health and well-being, and civil liberties. This response has already resulted in 60 publications – from op-eds to Policy Briefings – due to the engagement of over 170 experts.

Panel discussions will also address the latest thinking and action to advance inclusive excellence; sustainability; end-of-life decision-making; the National Inquiry on Missing and Murdered Indigenous Women and Girls; Science Engagement around the World; the Future of Higher Education in Canada; and many more.

...to CONNECT

The COEE features lectures, panels, presentations, and performances. Over seven days, from November 23 to November 29, over 1,000 delegates will engage in 50+ sessions with hundreds of scholars, clinicians, artists and scientist on the key issues of our time.

...to CELEBRATE

Thanks to the selection work of over 150 volunteer RSC members each year, an annual roster of truly remarkable individuals will be invited to accept membership in the RSC. On Day 5 of the 2020 COEE, the RSC will welcome 86 new RSC Fellows, 50 Members of the RSC College, and also present 16 awards for outstanding achievement. The ceremonies will be uniquely adapted this year to ensure all new members will participate – whether from home, from campus, or in Toronto. The result will be a stunning landscape of talent, imagination, discipline and discovery.
